Meeting in special session Friday evening, Sept. 3, the Board of Selectmen took action on the Main Street sidewalk/Elm Street corner issues. Recent developments in the Bethel House construction project would not await review at the regularly scheduled meeting necessitating immediate Board consideration.

As originally planned and agreed to between the Town and Bethel House developer, Dictar Associates, this project was to be a two part, joint effort. To correct the dangerous traffic situation at the Street corner, the developer agreed to deed to the Town a triangular piece of corner property while the Town in turn, agreed to obtain and install rounded curbing on the perimeter of the redesigned Elm Street corner and convert the existing triangular section to a wide street surface.

Regarding the second part of the effort, on Main Street, the developer agreed to replace all areas of disturbed sidewalk and curbing with materials and workmanship matching other new sidewalk installations in Town. To accommodate various underground connections for electrical service, storm and sewer drains and fresh water, about 80 feet of the 120 feet of existing concrete curbing and sidewalk was to have been replaced by the builder with five inch polished granite curbing and asphalt sidewalk. The Town, coordinating efforts with the builder, was to have installed the remaining 40 feet of sidewalk.

Developments during the past two weeks, however, have combined to change original sidewalk/corner plans. The deed conveying the corner property on Elm Street to the Town has not administered. The Maine Housing Authority review although other involved agencies, such as the developer, have completed action. Changes to service connections affecting Main Street resulted in less sidewalk disturbance; electric wires were routed under Elm Street; vice Main Street storm drains were rerouted to a common connection on the building site rather than several different line connections under Main Street. The net result was that

O.C.C.S. CHILDREN'S SERVICES TO INCLUDE HOME DAY CARE

Oxford County Community Services is pleased to announce expansion of its Children's Services Program to include Home Day Care. Up to now, Home Day Care in Oxford County has been sponsored by the Lewiston based Diocesan of Human Relations Services. Community leaders within the county prompted O.C.C.S. to approach the Department of Human Services with a request for local sponsorship of the program. O.C.C.S. currently sponsors Head Start and Day Care Centers within the county in Norway, Mexico and West Bethel. The support system already in place for families could easily be expanded to include the Home Day Care population.

An in depth bidding process followed, which included written proposals and interviews, with the final decision being made in favor of O.C.C.S. sponsorship.

The Home Day Care Program is made up of about 20 licensed homes around the county. A sliding fee scale is based on family size and income. Families seeking Home Day Care are encouraged to contact O.C.C.S. since referrals will be made whether or not funded placements are available.

Bette Woodbury, Education Coordinator for the O.C.C.S. Children's Services Program, will assume the responsibilities of Home Day Care Field Worker. She will share educational materials between homes and centers, work with staff to plan for individual children's needs and will monitor

CHILDREN'S DANCE THEATER TENTATIVELY PLANS SPRING PRODUCTION OF COPPELIA

Tentative plans for a spring production of the ballet Coppelgia by older students of the Children's Dance Theater are under consideration. The original choreography as done by professional dance companies will be followed as closely as abilities permit. Hopefully enough interest will be generated by this initial calling as dancers will need to begin working towards their goal immediately. Last year's students, former students and others interested in performing, set design, lighting, costuming, etc. (including eight teenage boys) are encouraged to call Michelle Keyes at 824-2955 or come to the Bethel Studio during registration week of Sept. 13.

The story of Coppelgia or Girl with Enamel Eyes tells about a foolish young man who falls in love with a pretty doll named Coppelgia. Franz, the young man, serves his true sweetheart, Swanhilda, who soon discovers that her rival is just a doll. Changing into the doll's clothes, Swanhilda fools the old toymaker who made Coppelgia into thinking she is the doll. Through this trick, she saves Franz from one of the toymaker's evil schemes. Franz realizing his foolishness then asks for Swanhilda to forgive him, and the two are soon united again.

Coppelgia is a beautiful, light-hearted ballet; the music by Debussy is lyrical and familiar to many. Everyone will reap the benefit of being involved in Bethel's artistic touch of fame.

—Eveline B. Vatcher, Corres.—

A lovely week end for a holiday and everyone enjoyed it, the many campers are on their way home.

The Community Club meeting was held at the hall Wednesday evening and September 18 will be the monthly supper date. New steps were discussed, also painting the steel ceiling, the ladies decided they were too busy to offer any help on the ceiling.

On Friday, Arnold Coffin and Doris Lawrence called on Maxine Lovejoy, Lloyd Fuller, at West Bethel. Maxine's sister, Evannah Givoux from Florida was there; also "Ducky" Murray Ring. They also made a door yard call on Viva Whitman at Newry, and Eva Yates.

Did every one sit up to watch the Johnny Carson show and see our own "Putt" Hathaway and Barbara of Bryant Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. William Labbe and Mrs. Rhoda Vatcher called on some of Bill's relatives in Ossipee, N. H., Sunday.

Harlan Abbott and Joe and Evelyn Vatcher went to Orr's Island Friday. They also made a doorway call at Mechanic Falls.

Another Labor Day week end. We have had three beautiful days weatherwise. Schools began earlier than usual this year, as the students started Sept. 1. The full of the moon was the third and am in hopes that this means we will have more time before a killing frost. Saturday I picked peas out of the garden while Frank and George finished working on the roof. This summer it started leaking in the bathroom in heavy rains (like the old saying, it only leaked when it rains). My folks, Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, Norway, came for Sunday dinner and we enjoyed the peas, along with corn and cukes. The gardens are late maturing this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown had as visitors, Thursday to Saturday, her brother, John Sweeney, Los Angeles; sister, Lora Stanon, of North Hollywood; and Edna Ackerman of Rutherford, N. J.

Evelyn Hilborn took Berntha Flanders, Locke Mills, to Auburn, and they had lunch in South Paris.

Evelyn Hilborn and friends went to Campobello, N. B. They went also to Cadillac Mountain and took the ferry to Deer Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson went to Flying Point Beach, Freeport, where they joined Sylvia's Sister, Judy Small, Timmy Small, and Alice Foss, who had rented a camp there. They also went camp digging.

Saturday, Sylvia Gardner and son, Eric, of Sabattus, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hannon, and girls, went to Rumford drive-in and Sunday went out to eat in Gorham.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bond and son, Nathan, of Pittsfield, N. H., visited his sister, Thelma Merrill, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shimamura, Sunday to Monday. Jody Shimamura has gone back to college in Farmington.

John Barge of New Jersey visited at Pat Saunders and family over the long week end. He went to college with Robert and helped Robert celebrate his 21st birthday with a cookout Sept. 3.

Charles, Melinda and Ruth Mason went to a horse show in Bethel. Melinda won three ribbons. Burton and Dorothy Abbott visited Myrtle Lapham Saturday and brought a beautiful bouquet of glads.

Monday Andy Davis and Pat Auger visited Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw.

Alden MacDougall took his daughter back to U. of M., Orono, Tuesday, where she starts her junior year.

Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Shaw left Friday to his sister's and family, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Coon, Great Neck, N. Y., and visited other relatives. They returned on at the Legion Hall to work on Legion history. They later had tea at their home on the Gore Road, then the Cummings went to Oxford to visit Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Strother and enjoyed some home made apple pie.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kay of Fall River, Mass., have been vacationing at their summer home on the Flat Road, the past couple of weeks.

Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Lovejoy and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Lovejoy and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Cummings enjoyed the picnic and meetings of the American Legion and Auxiliary in Locke Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lofredda of Portland arrived Friday at Cleve Lovejoy's and remained until Monday a. m. Gram and Gramp Cummings joined them for Sunday dinner and supper.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lovejoy went to Jackson to spend the Labor Day week end with Mr. and Mrs. Andy Stowell and family. Stane and Angela stayed with their aunt, Mariene Sweetser, in Rumford.

Confession
Sometimes I come to you in tears
My heart so full of pain,
Discouraged and disheartened
You pick me up again.

Sometimes I come to you in want,
I grumble and complain,
And then you give just what I need
And pick me up again.

Sometimes I come to you in fear,
I fight my dread in vain
I cannot do it on my own—
You pick me up again.

Sometimes I come to you in thanks
And then it's very plain
That any time I come to you
You'll pick me up again.

I always come to you in love,
Whether in loss or gain
You show me sweet compassion
And pick me up again.

On a tilted flower I spied the wings of a Monarch Butterfly. It was burnished topaz with antique gold. It sipped the nectar from the daisy-eyed bloom.

Along here were the stone walls where at this time of year, Virginia creeper and sumac are blazing red. Seen from the hilltop they make patterns on the landscape.

They have the patina of warm gray with highlights that shimmer like old pewter in the sun. Built so many generations ago that they are often referred to as dry walls, because they were laid by masterful straining of muscles, and no cement or clay.

I crossed one of these and came down through the forest. A forest can be both a cathedral and a classroom. How much can be learned if observed!

Back to the Bulldozer Road freshly mowed, I could see the glimmer of the water through the trees.

PRIDE FOR HOCKEY PLAYERS

The Rebel Field Hockey squad is beginning its second year of PRIDE. All team members are striving for excellence in school, at home, and on the field.

PRIDE stands for Personal Responsibility in daily encounters. Stress is being placed on the individual players to meet challenges head on whether it be in the classroom, on the playing field, or in any family situation. Players are accepting responsibilities on a one to one basis as they attend classes and practices.

Pins were awarded last Friday for the most effective spirit jingles. Winners were Gerri Gauthier, Sally Thompson, Georgia Gould, Dale Robbins and Cindy Fiske.

The four pre-season PRIDE winners will be announced next week. Team members cast ballots last week for leaders and Cindy Fiske, Joyce Gauthier and Laurie Vogt were elected to the Captainship of this year's squad. Congratulations girls!

On the hillside, the sun's rays glistened on the mixture of the colored trees. In the higher regions, the deep green of the pines and spruces stood watch.

The calico owned by Max Pulisier, played soft and lovely music that blended with the happy voices of the children.

Tables filled with hot dishes and desserts. Something for everyone but no one could sample it all. But it was left throughout the evening to tempt us to eat more.

With colored lights glowing, night winds whispering, and fireworks breaking the stillness another summer closed with its quiet peace and friendly neighbors.

TREE FARMER OF THE YEAR AWARD APPLICATIONS BEING ACCEPTED FOR 1983

Carl Van Huse, Chairman of the Maine Tree Farm Committee, has announced the Maine Tree Farm Committee is now accepting applications for the 1983 Tree Farmer of the Year Award Contest.

Non-industrial tree farmers who have been certified for one year or more and who own less than 1,000 acres are eligible for the competition. Applicants should demonstrate a history of above average tree farm management and promotion of forest management activities.

Outstanding tree farmers garner a variety of rewards at the state, regional and national levels of competition, ranging from prizes to much deserved recognition.

At the national level, American Forest Institute (AFI) awards the winner and spouse expense-paid trips to a major forestry meeting to be officially honored for their outstanding forest management efforts. The nominating forester and spouse also receive the same trip.

Regional winners are awarded a gas-powered generator from McCulloch, a regional finalist plaque and a special tree farmer tool kit from AFI.

On the state level, the winner is presented a McCulloch chainsaw, a gift certificate from TSI Co., a book "Woodlands for Profit and Pleasure" and a one-year subscription to "American Forester" magazine from the American Forestry Association and a laser-engraved walnut plaque from AFI. In addition, the winner will serve on the Maine Tree Farm Committee.

For 1983 there will be a northern regional winner and a southern regional winner for the corresponding areas of the state. One of these two winners will be chosen for the 1983 Maine Tree Farmer of the Year.

For more information and application form, contact the Maine Farm Bureau Assn., P. O. Box 490, Augusta, Maine, 04330. In order to be eligible, the application form must be returned to the Maine Farm Bureau office by September 17, 1983.

C.C.C. LOAN INTEREST RATE DECREASED TO 12%

Commodity and farm storage loans disbursed in September by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation will carry a 12% interest rate, according to C.C.C. Executive Vice President Everett Rank.

The new rate, down from 14%, reflects the interest rate charged C.C.C. by the U. S. Treasury in September, Rank said.

MAINE SCHOOL ENROLLMENT EXPECTED TO DECREASE

Maine public school enrollment is expected to be down approximately 6,000 from last year, according to the Division of Management Information of the Maine Department of Educational and Cultural Services.

Based on the April 1, 1982 public school census of 213,750, total public enrollment at the start of the 1982-83 school year is projected at 212,000.

Although most of the decrease is reflected in projected enrollment figures for the elementary level, some decrease is projected for the secondary level as well.

Maine reached an all time high in public school enrollment in 1972 when 250,972 pupils were recorded. Enrollment began to decline in 1973 and has continued to show annual decreases since that date.

Maine's private elementary and secondary schools showed a decline from the previous year, according to information supplied to the MDECS. The Oct. 1, 1981 school census lists private school enrollment at 15,836, compared to 17,570 the year before.

The 1981-82 Maine Educational Directory lists 778 public schools and 153 private schools in Maine.

Of 15,554 public high school graduates in June 1981, 46.2% enrolled in some type of post-secondary education. Seventy percent of private high school graduates enrolled in institutions of higher learning in 1981.

In 1980-81, Maine's secondary school dropout rate was 4.2% or 2,924 out of 69,920 secondary students.

SHEEP-RAISING TO BE TOPIC OF S.A.D. 44 ADULT ED. CLASS

The S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education program has added a course in Sheep-Raising to its line-up of fall courses, set to begin the week of September 20. The course will be taught by Suzanne Laban of Northwest Bethel, who, with her husband John and children Matthew, Chris and Amy, have been raising sheep for a number of years. Mrs. Laban commented in a recent interview that "the course should be of interest to those people who are contemplating the raising of sheep, as well as to those who have begun to do so. There has been a tremendous increase in sheep-raising in Maine over the past few years."

The course will be held at Telstar High School on Thursday evenings from 7-9, starting September 23, for six weeks. A tentative schedule includes sessions on breeds of sheep, economics, space and housing requirements, nutrition and health, breeding and lambing, and marketing of sheep products. A visit to the Laban farm has been scheduled for a hands-on session later in the fall.

Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell remarked that the course will include the use of resource people, and will provide a good addition to the Adult and Community Education program in the growing area of

Walking With Jesus Christ

A preface to this column: The writing of it bears a heavy responsibility to adhere to Bible truths. Prior to each writing there is a time of prayer, seeking God's will and not that of the writer. The "why" of this preface is that "on my own" the column should reflect a joy-happiness—yet consistent prayer brings forth such recurring verses as Genesis 6:5-8: "And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of his heart was only evil continually. And it repented the Lord that he had made man on earth, and it grieved him in his heart. And the Lord said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repented me that I made them."

"But Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord." This reveals that there was one whom God was happy with. Verse 9—"Noah was a just man and perfect in his generation, and Noah walked with God."

Verse 17—"And, behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of water upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is found the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth will die."

God did destroy all things that breathed except Noah and his family and the selected creatures to continue his creation with the desire to have a people of his own. Yes, through it all God loves man as John 3:16 says:—"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son that

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TO COORDINATE DEBATES ON PUBLIC TV IN OCTOBER

The League of Women Voters of Maine has announced that it is coordinating their first statewide live televised debates—Debates '82—"The Maine Event": Oct. 20, the Maine gubernatorial candidates and on Oct. 21 the U. S. Senatorial candidates. Candidates from the major political parties have been invited to debate at the Bangor Civic Center. Maine public television stations will be broadcasting live both evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock. According to Penny Harris, Maine League President, an audience of 500 is hoped for at the civic center. Free tickets will be available through the League of Women Voters.

The League, a non-partisan organization which promotes informed participation in government, is coordinating these debates to insure that Maine citizens have more than thirty-sixty second campaign commercial as their primary source of information before the Nov. 2 elections, according to Maxine Harrow, Project Manager.

Maine companies who have funded Debates '82—"The Maine Event" are: Dead River Companies, Depositors Trust Company of Eastern Maine, Great Northern Paper, Merrill Trust Company, Scott Paper Company and Seven Islands Land Company.

Holiday week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dock were Gretchen Dock and James Dock, Jamaica Plain, Mass., and Ellen Levine, Cambridge, Mass.

ST. JOSEPH HOSPITAL SCHOOL OF NURSING TO ORGANIZE ALUMNI

Graduates of St. Joseph Hospital School of Nursing will hold an Alumni Association Organizational Meeting on Monday evening, Sept. 20, at 7 o'clock at the school, it was announced by Sister Mary Laetitia, CSSF, Director Emerita, St. Joseph Hospital School of Nursing.

An invitation is extended to the more than 400 graduates who have received LPN and/or RN degrees since the school was founded in 1963. From a modest beginning with several classrooms in a building adjacent to the hospital, the school acquired its own structure in 1981 with the purchase of the former Mormon Church, 268 Center Street, Bangor.

Whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

God saw the lostness of man 1982 years ago—he Jesus Christ came as a man—in flesh and blood—"as a last resort?" to save man from his own foolish ways.

And yet, how few there are that take God at his word—even some that once accepted the offer of a fruitful life—have failed, seeking their own way to serve themselves and in many cases to please Satan.

God is certainly grieved—"For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and knew not until the flood came, and took them all away, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be". Matt. 24:38.

ADULT DRIVER EDUCATION

ADDED TO S. A. D. 44

ADULT ED. PROGRAM

Adult Driver Education has been added to the S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education schedule for the fall term to offer adults in the area a chance to learn to drive, and to obtain their license, through a course which will combine classroom and road work.

Ralph Niemi of South Paris will be the instructor. Mr. Niemi currently offers driver education courses at Telstar Regional High School and Gould Academy, and Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell expressed her satisfaction in having secured such an experienced and qualified teacher for the adult course which has not been offered locally since 1976.

The Adult Driver Education class will meet on Monday evenings from 6:30-8:30 for the classroom work, beginning on Sept. 20. The schedule of individual driving times will be set up at the mutual convenience of student and instructor, and will include times to meet the needs of those who are working, as well as those able to drive during the day. The course may be taken for adult high school credit. To enroll, please call the

WOOD-HEAT CLASS IS ADULT ED. OFFERING

The S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education program has added a course in Wood Heat to its fall line-up, expanding the energy-related offerings of recent years.

Rocky Swain, who manufactures stoves in Andover, will teach the eight week class which will meet at Telstar High School on Wednesday evenings from 7-9, starting September 22. The course, which will include films and visits by such resource personnel as fire chiefs and a mason, will explore the subject of wood heat in depth, covering such topics as economics and future availability, physical properties of wood as a fuel, combustion, chimneys, heat transfer, heating appliances, efficiency and system usefulness, safety and will include a "heat study" problem to determine cost savings.

Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell stated that the Wood Heat course should be useful to both individuals contemplating converting to wood as well as to those who have been burning wood but lack knowledge on the subject. The course will offer ample opportunity for students to ask questions, and to share tips and information. To enroll, please call the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2136, between 8 and 2 weekdays, or during evening hours, 7-9, on Sept. 9. It is also possible to register by mail or in person.

"POCKET WATCH"

A "first in Maine consumer history."

"The State of Maine has produced some excellent consumer guides in the past," Tierney said, "some of which have attracted national attention. 'Pocket Watch' builds on that tradition but goes considerably farther, moving into a whole new realm of comprehensiveness and detail," the Attorney General added.

The book is divided into 14 chapters, each covering a broad consumer topic. Each chapter emphasizes the preventative rather than the remedial, advocating caution and common sense—a "look-before-you-learn" approach. However, because problems do occur, the book offers a number of complaint strategies, recourses and remedies, each particularized to the subject being discussed.

For example, the section dealing with home repairs and improvements explains that several different consumer statutes such as the Home Repair Financing Act, or the Consumer Solicitation Sales Act, could come into play in a home repair contract depending upon the particular circumstances. The book then goes on to recommend a number of common sense protective steps a consumer should follow before entering into any contract for home repairs: for example, obtaining bids from several local contractors, checking references, putting the entire agreement in writing, paying in installments and withholding final payment until all work is satisfactorily done and "waivers of lien" have been obtained from all subcontractors and suppliers. If problems arise that the consumer is unable to resolve with the contractor, the book then provides the names and addresses of agencies and organizations that may be able to help resolve it. In fact, one chapter of the book is devoted exclusively to successful complaint techniques, complete with a sample complaint letter, and a discussion of the escalating steps of complaining, which end with Small Claims Court or hiring a lawyer.

The subjects covered in "Pocket Watch's" 14 chapters are extensive. They range from the most common such as contracts and warranties, refunds and layaways, credit rights, debt collection practices, new and used car buying and car repairs, landlord-tenant rights, food pricing and labeling, advertising, insurance and mail order problems, to the more esoteric such as hospital patients' rights, eyeglasses, mobile home park tenants' right, airline passen-

Telstar R. H. S. News FROM THE GUIDANCE OFFICE

On Sept. 29, Telstar juniors and seniors will have the opportunity to attend the annual College Fair taking place at the University of Southern Maine, Portland. One hundred and fifty colleges will be represented giving students a chance to meet with admissions counselors from any college they may have an interest in attending. At this time they will be able to get first-hand information concerning specific programs, financial aid, and individual admissions requirements. Catalogs, brochures and applications from each participating college will be made available.

Telstar students who are planning to attend college after graduation will have the opportunity to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or Achievement (ACH) on Nov. 6, 1982. Students must register by Oct. 13 for this exam or pay a penalty fee of $8. Applications are available in the Guidance Office. Most colleges require, or at least prefer, that seniors take the SAT in November or December and the Achievements Tests in December or January. Colleges generally like to have Senior SAT scores as soon as possible; thus, unless a college specifically requires a later date, most seniors should plan to take the November SAT.

In the coming weeks several college representatives are scheduled to visit Telstar. Anyone having an interest in meeting with them is invited to drop in during any of the following times: Sept. 14, Eastern Nazarene College, Quincy, Mass., 10:30; Sept. 14, Bowdoin College, Brunswick, 1:00; Sept. 20, White Pine College, Chester, N. H., 11:45; Sept. 22, St. Joseph's College, North Windham, 8:30; Sept. 27, Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston, 11:00; Oct. 26, Notre Dame College, Manchester, N. H., 10:30; Nov. 2, Nichols College, Dudley, Mass., 10:00; Nov. 3, Marlboro College, Marlboro, Vt., 1:00; Nov. 5, Maine Maritime Academy, Castine, 11:30; Nov. 10, Johnson & Wales College, Providence, R. I., 12:30; Dec. 8, Dean Junior College, Franklin, Mass., 11:00; and Dec. 9, Colby Sawyer College, New London, N. H., 12:15.

Four "Parent Nights" have been scheduled for September and early October. At these times parents are invited to come to Telstar to meet with Guidance staff and have an opportunity to learn what guidance services will be provided to their child through the year. Parents of Seniors are asked to please reserve Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock on Sept. 21 to come to this informative and beneficial get-together. Parents of Telstar Juniors are invited to attend on Thursday evening, Sept. 30; parents of sophomores, Monday evening, Oct. 4; and parents of Freshmen, Wednesday evening, Oct. 13.

AEROBIC DANCE CLASSES ARE OFFERING OF S.A.D. 44 ADULT EDUCATION

The fitness offerings of the S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education program for the fall term include a return of the popular Aerobic Dance classes, offered on a self-supporting basis by instructors in Bethel and Andover. This form of active exercise is made up of a twice-weekly structured program of warm-up and stretching routines, active movement and a cool-down, all done to music. The student's pulse is monitored to prevent over-exertion, as well as to make sure enough benefit is being achieved. Susan Farrar will again be the instructor in Bethel, with classes set for both morning afternoon and evenings. A new option will be offered in Bethel this year. Students may select the traditional aerobic dance class, or an Aerobic section, which combines the Jane Fonda work-out with aerobic dances. The Andover class, taught by Carol Emery will be the traditional aerobic dance, meeting at the Andover School, on Mondays and Thursdays from 6:30 - 7:30 p. m.

The schedule of Bethel classes include 8:30 - 9:30 Aerobic Dance on Monday and Wednesday mornings at the Dance Studio; 2:45 - 3:45 Aerobic class on Monday and Wednesday afternoon at the Telstar Library, and a 6:30 - 7:30 Aerobic section on Monday and Wednesday evenings at the Studio. Another Aerobic section will meet on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Studio from 8:30 - 9:30 a. m., with an Aerobic Dance section on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 - 7:30 at the Studio. Classes are interchangeable when necessary. All will start the week of September 20.

Aerobic classes are open to men and women and have become a popular form of conditioning for professional sports teams. To enroll, students may call the instructors, Mrs. Farrar, at 824-2030, Mrs. Emery, 392-8161, or the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2136, between 8 and 2 weekdays, or during evening hours, 7-9, on September 9.

SERIOUS GARDENER SHOULD DO FLEXIBILITY EXERCISES ALL WINTER

It's not enough these days to know about such things as early maturing species, best soil composition and how to scare away the woodchucks to be an efficient gardener.

According to the University of Maine at Orono Cooperative Extension Service, the gardener who enjoys planting or reseeding the most, and suffers less, is the one who does five to 10 minutes of flexibility exercises before and "cools off" after working in the family vegetable patch.

In the Extension Service's latest newsletter Patricia Wolman, health and nutrition specialist, recommends that prior to working in the garden the novice gardener should do flexibility exercises consisting of bending, twisting and stretching the trunk, head, arms, shoulders, legs and feet.

"These exercises will help to prepare the muscles for the work that is necessary and will help to stretch and relax the muscles after the work is finished, according to Wolman.

The Extension specialist doesn't limit her warm up and cool down suggestions just to in-season activity, however. She recommends that the serious gardener do 15 minutes of flexibility exercises all winter long so that when spring planting comes along the usual aches and pains can be avoided.

FROM THE TOWN OFFICE

only 40 feet of sidewalk and curbing must be replaced by the builder, leaving the remaining 80 feet on Main Street and the Elm Street corner curbing for the Town to deal with.

It must be noted at this point that the builder has cooperated in every professional way, acting on matters of mutual concern only after considering the interests and desires of the Town. In this spirit, the builder offered last week to remove the concrete sidewalk blocks and lay down new asphalt sidewalk the entire length of Main Street in front of the Bethel House project. If the Town would provide and install granite curbing. After reviewing alternatives and cost trade-offs the Board voted Friday evening to accept the builder's offer with minor modifications and authorized the Town Manager to proceed with the purchase of curbing and the Highway department to install this fall the granite blocks in coordination with the new asphalt sidewalk. The cost of granite curbing, about $1,400, is to be absorbed by savings in other sectors of the Public Works budget.

This reporter wishes to correct an unintended impression felt in some quarters resulting from last week's article. The purpose of that article was to introduce and welcome the new special police officers and constables to the Town; no changes have occurred to the Town constables who, more well known to us, have been serving our community for the past several years. FEWER ACRES AFFECTED BY GYPSY MOTH CATERPILLAR IN MAINE DURING 1982

"Preliminary results of an aerial survey of gypsy moth caterpillar damage shows that the insects affected about 78,000 fewer acres in 1982 than they did last year," said Kenneth G. Stratton, Director of the Department of Conservation's Maine Forest Service.

The survey showed that 578,000 acres were affected in 1982, down from a record 656,000 acres defoliated last year. Over 90% of the area affected in 1982 was either lightly defoliated, with up to 30% of the leaves lost or moderately defoliated with 30-60% of the leaves lost.

"Most importantly, the survey shows that 'heavy' defoliation — where 80-100% of the leaves were stripped — only occurred on 50,107 acres in 1982," stated Stratton. In 1981, gypsy moth caterpillars caused heavy defoliation on 87,273 acres.

David Struble, Maine Forest Service entomologist, emphasized that while "it is still too early to predict what these figures mean for next year's gypsy moth population, we do know that there has been a reduction of defoliation intensity and of the area infested by the gypsy moth," Struble says the insects have been stressed by disease and starvation. "The many cold nights and wet days this spring prevented normal feeding behavior which results in a stressed population. This was followed by a hot period which accelerated the spread of disease among the

The Board of Selectmen will meet in regular session Monday evening, Sept. 13, at 7 o'clock, in the Bethel Savings Bank meeting room. Agenda items will include: an executive session of about a half hour duration with the Town's counsel to review the status of various suits in litigation; a public hearing at 7:30 to hear citizen comments on a proposed Cable TV ordinance (see Public Notice, pg. 2); proposed Ordinance, pg. 6); select the successful bidder for supplying the Town's gasoline and fuel oil needs for next year; winter sand; and select a successful bidder to dig a new trench at the Landfill.

weakened caterpillars," said Struble.

A ground survey currently underway will check to be sure the areas surveyed from the air were defoliated by gypsy moths and not some other insect, but forest service personnel do not expect there will be more than a 3% change in the preliminary defoliation figures.

An egg mass survey which will start in September as soon as the moths have finished laying their eggs will provide an indication of how many gypsy moth caterpillars can be expected in 1983. This survey, to be completed by the end of September, will assess numbers of egg masses, as well as general health and viability of the eggs. Entomologists will also study winter survival of the eggs since winter temperatures affect the number of caterpillars emerging in the spring.

But Struble is not ready to predict that the Maine gypsy moth population is on the verge of collapse. "I can't envision at this point a complete collapse. We have seen reductions in the intensity of defoliation and the area infested. This may be a prelude to collapse, but there are still millions of egg masses out there," Struble said.

A lovely summer wedding took place at St. Athanasius-St. John Church, Rumford, on July 31, when Leigh M. Michaud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Michaud, Andover, became the bride of Timothy B. Tracy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tracy, Andover.
